

Europe Trembles; Anarchy Feared

BOMBS ARE TROWN IN CAPITAL

Assassination of Duke and Duchess Is Followed by Rioting in Capital.
WHOLE EMPIRE IS CAST INTO SORROW
Is Final Tragedy in Long
Series of Personal Sorrows and Trouble.

SARAYEVO, Bosnia, June 28.—A bomb thrown by a youth standing in the corner of a main street in the Bosnian capital was the signal this morning for a serious anti-Serbian outbreak, which the troops found considerable difficulty in quelling.

Marital law was proclaimed today, both in the city and the district of Sarajevo, in connection with the assassination Sunday of archduke Francis Ferdinand and the duchess of Hohenberg, his morganatic wife. The archduke would have succeeded to the Austro-Hungarian throne.

According to the semi-official report of the tragedy, which occurred at 10:59 a. m., the archduke and duchess were in the motor car of Count Franz von Harrach, was standing on the foot-board of the car, acting as a shield to the occupants of which he constituted himself the special bodyguard after the bomb had been thrown a short time before by Gavrilo Princip.

Archduke Was Joking.
The archduke was joking with the count about the several shots rang out. The aim of the bullets inflicted a mortal wound.

For an instant after the attack, field marshal Potiorek, thought the archduke and the duchess seated opposite him had again escaped. Neither the archduke nor the duchess uttered a sound but a moment afterwards it was seen they had been hit.

Lieut. Col. Erik Merzani, who had been wounded by the bomb in the first attack, was today pronounced out of danger, while the injury received by count Bosnyak-Waldeck is said to be insignificant.

Bodies Lie in State.
Until the emperor's wishes are known, the bodies of the duke and duchess will lie in state in the Capuchin church in Vienna.

In Sarajevo there is mourning everywhere with black draped flags and streamers on all public buildings. The president has a momentary grief and horror of the whole province at the ruthless crime and sacrifice of his majesty of the people's devotion to the ruling house.

Bomb Injured Many.
Throughout the day, weeping women were to be seen in groups while great crowds surrounded the spots where the bomb exploded and where the fatal shots were fired. The bomb was filled with nails and lead filings and the explosion was violent.

The iron shrapnel from many shops were pierced by flying fragments and iron railings were shattered. About a score of persons were injured, several of them being seriously wounded.

Continuation of Sorrows.
The final tragedy which has come to the house of Hapsburg is the culmination of the personal sorrows that have overshadowed the life of the emperor.

Less than ten years before the emperor's only son, the crown prince Rudolph, met death in a mysterious way to this day has not been cleared. On January 20, 1889, his body was found in a hunting lodge at Mayerling, not far from Vienna. Beside his body lay that of the baroness Marie Vetsera.

Archduke Francis Next.
Archduke Charles Francis, known popularly as Karl, who becomes heir to the Austrian throne in case of the morganatic birth of the children of archduke Francis Ferdinand, has been carefully educated with a view to fitting him to the position of emperor. He differs from all other members of the imperial family inasmuch as he is the first member of the imperial house to have been educated in the public schools of Vienna, where he mixed with pupils representing every class of society. He associated with working men and tradespeople and joined them in their games, thus getting into closer touch with the aspirations and ideals of the people than any of the other Hapsburgs. He is a first lieutenant in the Austrian navy.

NATION'S FUTURE HANGS ON EMPEROR

Vienna, Austria, June 29.—The opinion has gained ground in authoritative circles here that the future of Austria-Hungary, now more than ever, depends on the health of the venerable emperor, Francis Joseph.

It was pointed out in political circles that if the emperor is permitted to reign only a few years more everything may continue as usual and archduke Francis Ferdinand's death will have little lasting material effect on the foreign or domestic affairs of the dual monarchy. It was argued that should a youthful and inexperienced ruler like the archduke Charles Francis Joseph, son of the late archduke Otto, suddenly be called on to take the reins of government, a period of anarchy might occur.

FEAR ASSASSINATION MAY
INJURE EUROPE'S STABILITY
Paris, France, June 29.—Apprehension lest the Sarajevo crime prove a dire blow to the stability of Europe almost overshadows the feeling of horror and repugnance over the assassination and the deep sympathy for the aged emperor in the comments of the morning newspapers.

The opinion is expressed that the tragedy will intensify the seething movement draw Serbia and Russia closer and place Austria more under the dependency of Germany.

Maternity Bed in Tree!
Crows Fear Woman!
Prizes for Mustaches!

A DENVER MAN HAS ASKED AN explanation of his unusual behavior on the ground that he cannot follow his trade because he has lost his teeth.

HUSBAND AND WIFE HAVE JUST taken the her examination in Fort Worth, Tex., and will form a law partnership.

A KNIFE CARELESSLY THROWN BY a stage villain in Pittsburgh, hit a woman in the audience and she and her husband have sued the theater for damages.

A DETROIT POLICEMAN, ARRESTED on complaint of a woman, whose skirt he criticized, was acquitted and commended, following vivid testimony. The woman, in a screaming fury, then tried to attack him.

WHEN FRED BRIGGS CARRIED A bullet into the court room in Bellefontaine, O., Judge Henderson sent him back to jail for examination as to his mental condition. He is under indictment for gambling.

A PET CAT OWNED BY MORRIS NEWMAN climbed a tree in Tarzaville, N. Y., and in one of the crochets brought seven kittens into the world.

A ST. LOUIS MAN TIED HIMSELF head and feet and jumped into the Mississippi river to win his wife's sympathy and effect a reconciliation. He was nearly drowned when taken out, but with an sympathy. In fact, his wife had him arrested on a charge of abandonment.

BECAUSE CROWS USED A MALE screecher in his cornfield, near Marquette, Mo., a perch, Howard Southon replaced it with the figure of a woman. The crows have given the new screecher a wide berth.

DECLARING THAT THE SHAVING off of one's mustache is extremely efficacious and utterly out of place in the army, a colonel of French chasseurs has ordered that all "leave be refused to those who do so."

A PLEA OF "IGNORANTLY GUILTY," entered by Augustus Thomas, plaintiff, in the case of the automobile accident, resulted in a $25 fine.

RAYMOND O. BERG, 12 YEARS OLD, was given a gold medal on his graduation from the Dever (N. J.) high school because he had not been absent or tardy in 12 years.

A BIRTHDAY, A WEDDING ANNIVERSARY, a double christening and a house warming were the events of one day at Charles Poth's home, in Cincinnati, N. J.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.
Washington, D. C., June 29.
The day in congress:
Debate was resumed on the river and harbor appropriation bill.
House:
Under suspension of the rules, the bill was considered.
The Lever bill, for regulation in trading in cotton futures, was brought up for debate.
Senator Burton predicted river and harbor bills would be unable to pass in the future unless the method of appropriation was changed.
Senator Chamberlain's resolution to recruit the army to war strength was favorably reported by the military committee.
Senators Thomas, Lee, Hughes, Clapp and Kroyon appointed to investigate charges of misuse of senate stationery in connection with a gold mine promotion.

VILLA LEAVES TORREON FOR CHIHUAHUA

Rebel Leader Brings His Army Back to Torreon
in a Hurry.
SPLIT RENEWED,
IS THE REPORT

Carranza's Refusal to Let
Villa Have Ammunition
Threatens Trouble.

PANCHITO VILLA left Torreon today for Chihuahua and may come on to Juarez according to information reaching Juarez Monday afternoon. Villa has abandoned his campaign against the federalists and with this whole army returned to Torreon Sunday from Aguascalientes. Aguascalientes has been evacuated by the federalists who are supposed to be making a stand at San Luis Potosi.

Villa and Carranza, according to reports from the interior and from Washington are farther apart now than ever and the split in the rebel government appears to be bordering upon open hostilities.

These are the developments today in the Mexican situation in rebel territory and the outlook is regarded by both Villa and Carranza men as gloomy. Carranza, who has an abundance of money, is said to be offering to let Villa have any. The question with Mexicans now appears to be will Villa try to force Carranza to give up his military chief. It is reported unofficially that Villa has sent an ultimatum to Carranza that if he does not agree to his terms, he will march southward to "see" about it. On account of the Mexican Central being destroyed between Chihuahua and Torreon, all war supplies needed by Villa must pass through Coahuila, which is largely dominated by Carranza's forces.

With an army in Torreon, Villa, it is believed, will be in a position to bring more pressure on Carranza than his army of several hundred miles further south and busy campaigning.

Breceda's Statement Causes Anger.
In Juarez a statement made at the fiery statement made in Washington Saturday by Alfredo Breceda, supposedly one of Carranza's representatives to the Niagara Falls mediation conference. It is known that portions of Breceda's interview were telegraphed to Villa, who did not roll them back. It is the belief among the Juarez commercial and military officials that Carranza inspired the Breceda interview.

Lacks Ammunition.
Lack of ammunition is given by Villa men as the reason for Villa's return from the south.

The relation of the northern zone commander with Carranza, in the opinion of agents here today unquestionably has caused the abandonment of the campaign. It has brought the much discussed Carranza-Villa estrangement to a breaking point, they asserted, in that the "Constitutionalist" commander-in-chief has declined to allow Villa to import cartridges for his men and shells for his artillery through the port of Tampico. This port is now the only entryway for munitions which the revolutionists may use, as the border still is closed to them by the strict embargo of the United States border patrol.

Uses Up All Munitions.
At Zacatecas Villa shot away practically all of the cargo of the Antilla, which landed at Tampico despite the federal gunboat blockade, according to his representatives here. Carranza's get the Antilla ammunition, which they declare still is in Monterey. It had been however, declared that Villa did not get through a boat.

Villa To Have $1000
Bathub; Orders It To Be Shipped To Juarez

New York, June 29.—A Washington dispatch to the New York Sun says: "Francisco Villa will soon have a $1000 porcelain bathtub. A firm in Chicago, according to information received today, has filled the rebel leader's order and has shipped the tub to Juarez."

It is believed that Villa plans to carry his new tub to Mexico City to substitute it for that now used by Huerta. There is said to be no bathtub like Villa's $1000 purchase either in the white house or in the home of any cabinet officer here.

THREATENS TO SPLIT GROWING

BLAMED BY CARRANZA
FOR SPLIT WITH VILLA

GEN. FELIPE ANGELES

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

THREATENS TO SPLIT GROWING

BLAMED BY CARRANZA
FOR SPLIT WITH VILLA

GEN. FELIPE ANGELES

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

THREATENS TO SPLIT GROWING

BLAMED BY CARRANZA
FOR SPLIT WITH VILLA

GEN. FELIPE ANGELES

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

THREATENS TO SPLIT GROWING

BLAMED BY CARRANZA
FOR SPLIT WITH VILLA

GEN. FELIPE ANGELES

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's manifestoes are attributed to him. He is very likely to be the next provisional president of Mexico, with the consent of the United States. It is reported that both Villa and president Wilson favor him for provisional president. Gen. Angeles is blamed by Carranza for the split with the "first chief."

GEN. ANGELES, Villa's closest adviser and chief of artillery, is a graduate of Mexico's West Point and a highly educated soldier and diplomat. Many of Villa's